

“Roman Holiday”

Have you ever listened to a song and instantly knew it was going to be a hit? “Roman Holiday” by Skylar Lee is one of those songs. By the second listen I found myself humming along to the chorus, and by the third listen I was nearly breaking a sweat from singing it so loud. Skylar tells us a story about finding love with the right person at the wrong time, a feeling most can emulate. While the story in it of itself might have a touch of sadness, the upbeat, inspiring music set behind it washes all of that pain away and enralls us to listen again and again.

If you told me “Roman Holiday” was actually sung by Taylor Swift I would have no reason to doubt you. From the catchy upbeat tune to the honing yet inspiring lyrics, Skylar Lee’s new hit single has all the make-up of an instant classic. From a slow-burning start to an action-packed chorus, the story of love and loss is blissfully intertwined in her lyrics. This hot pop single had help in the production room from top stars such as Luke Bryan and Eric Church, who recognized the true potential of Skylar Lee and turned her dreams into a reality.

Skylar Lee is a singer, songwriter, and producer based out of the great music city of Nashville. Music has always been a part of her life, whether it be singing at a young age, to the violin, piano, and guitar that followed soon after. As a high school student, Skylar was heavily involved in the music world, whether it be performing at the school talent show, to being involved in choir, spring musicals, and even children's shows. Post-high school music continued to be her driving factor, as she studied songwriting and music business at Belmont University. Skylar has been very consistent with her song releases, with “Marionette” being released in 2020, followed by “Roman Holiday,” “Hotel in a Hurry,” and her newest release “Modern Art.”

Written by Andre Orengo

